

Merrick

Primary Idea	Key Features	Uses	Smaller Features
Fortune roulette. The user gets to bet on different squares and instead of betting money, they bet their fortunes. Every time their amount of fortune changes, a new prophecy is given that matches the amount of fortune they have.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spinning Roulette table with sound</li> <li>Betting system similar to real roulette</li> <li>Fortunes that depend on the money won or lost.</li> </ul>	People who like risk and adrenaline when they decide their fortunes. It is valuable to the user because they get to have fun gambling with their own futures.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>More realistic animations for everything</li> <li>Themed locations like Las Vegas, Macau, etc.</li> </ul>

Joseph

inspired by other tarot applications out there

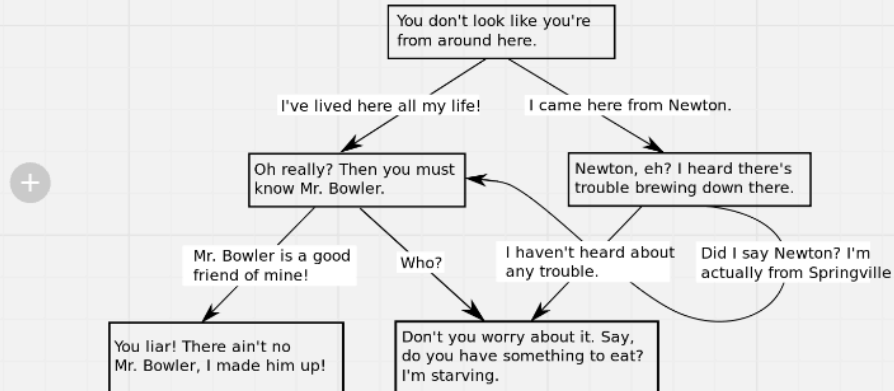

Primary Idea	Key Features	Uses	Smaller Features
Traditional artsy Tarot web app fully embracing the early 1900s (coincidentally public domain Rider-Waite Tarot deck aesthetic, meant for those interested in Tarot as a subject/skill as well as trendy wiccan/esoteric enthusiasts who think it looks cool)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Selecting your desired Tarot spread (1 Card Answer, 3 Card Past-Present-Future, Celtic Cross Spread)</li> <li>"Mystical-Enigmatic" stylization of each of the card's meanings, try to act really mysterious</li> <li>"Omen of the day" daily mood/fortune/thing</li> </ul>	Pamela Wicca, got into Twitter/TikTok subcultures and now wants to read tarot cards and LARP as a witch online. Uses this app to immerse themselves into the aesthetic and prep for putting symbolically-relevant cards on her moodboard.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>"Library" of all tarot cards and meanings for those who want to browse through all cards.</li> <li>"Love reading," "Friendship reading," "Academic reading," etc, put a spin on the normal 1-Card readings</li> <li>Bias towards positive cards, or to negative cards</li> </ul>

Alex

Primary Idea	Key Features	Uses	Smaller Features
Crystal ball - there's an all powerful crystal ball somewhere in the world and the website allows you to "communicate" with it from anywhere in the world	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>make it more specific to user/more real               <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>enter birthday</li> <li>favorite number, color</li> <li>personalizing how it looks</li> </ul> </li> <li>based on random events (time of day, moon phase, etc) give an additional unrelated statement/advice               <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>these may also change appearance of ball or type of answer</li> </ul> </li> <li>look for keywords in the question to determine the category of answer to give</li> </ul>		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>A fake backstory of where/how the ball was found</li> <li>Use AI image/video to make it seem like viewing the crystal ball through a webcam?</li> <li>recharge time so you can't spam questions</li> </ul>

Andrew

Primary Idea	Key Features	Uses	Smaller Features
We keep our current idea with multiple characters that tell you your fortunes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Each character has different voice lines and they have different animations that come up with each voice line</li> </ul>	It can cater to multiple groups of people who have different interests	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Aesthetic UI and interactive buttons</li> <li>Different characters can have different backgrounds</li> </ul>

Fortune cookie style?